VOLUME 19 ♦ ISSUE 7

Warm Welcome for New President

New Cuyamaca College President Mark Zacovic attended his first Governing Board meeting and received well-wishes and greetings from trustees, staff, and students.

Zacovic said he has been warmly welcomed during his first three weeks on campus. He singled out Grossmont College President Sunny Cooke for her advice and encouragement as he began his new role.

AFT representative Alicia Munoz said staff was happy to have Zacovic's leadership as Cuyamaca enters the accreditation process. Cuyamaca College Academic Senate President Michael Wangler said Zacovic met with Academic Senate officers and is very visible on campus.

Board Reports

Trustee Mary Kay Rosinski thanked Academic Senate President Michael Wangler for an entertaining moment during the farewell event for Cuyamaca College Interim President Robert Garber. Because Garber had assured Rosinski that parking lot cones would be removed, Wangler put Garber in a cart with him and ran down cones – all in good fun. She displayed her souvenir traffic delineator and said she can hardly wait until the real ones in front of the Cuyamaca College Communication Arts Center are removed following the road renovation. Trustee Edwin Hiel said he enjoyed the farewell event for Garber, as well.

Grossmont College Student Trustee Christopher Enders noted the District is doing a great job with its Facebook pages. He said there are lots of items students will benefit from knowing, and hopes more will find out about the pages.

Cuyamaca College Student Trustee Chuck Taylor said he attended a leadership retreat hosted by Barstow Community College.

President Bill Garrett reported that he went to Sacramento to testify before both the Senate Education and Election Committees on Senate Bill 684, formerly Senate Bill 680. The proposal to permit district elections for community college trustees has been so popular that the Community College League of California has combined it with other similar legislation and it will now apply statewide. Garrett said the bill is expected to be approved. Garrett said he also spoke at the Alpine Chamber of Commerce event—An Evening with Your Elected Representatives. Chancellor Cindy Miles, Presidents Sunny Cooke and Mark Zacovic, Vice Chancellor Sue Rearic, and Communication Specialist Anne Krueger also attended.

Two former Grossmont College students now working at the Ion Theatre in Hillcrest will both attend UC Irvine in the fall. Garrett spoke with them after attending a play at the theater. One student said how important it was for him to attend Grossmont because he was not ready for a four-year college. "I'm pleased for the students and proud to be part of the District," Garrett said.

Board Actions

Trustees extended the terms of current Citizens' Bond Oversight Committee members Ron Oberndorfer and Emilie Zouhar for a consecutive two-year term, and approved restructuring the Grossmont College Dean and District Services positions. By consent, the Governing Board unanimously approved all items on the agenda.

From Closed Session

The Governing Board had no reportable actions during closed session. On announcing the Board completed an annual Chancellor evaluation, President Bill Garrett said members are very pleased with the direction she is taking the District and gave her guidance on moving the District forward. Garrett expressed appreciation for the Chancellor survey responses from Board Members and the internal and external community, which were discussed.

Chancellor's Report

Chancellor Cindy Miles congratulated both colleges for meeting and exceeding Osher Scholarship goals. Together over $850,000 was raised, representing 82 scholarships between the two colleges. Each scholarship provides at least $1,000 annually forever. The Chancellor recognized Foundation Executive Director for Development Ernie Ewin for his leadership, and said that many District employees contributed to the scholarship fund. Miles said only 31 community colleges in the state met their Osher Scholarship goals, with Grossmont and Cuyamaca being two of them.

The new Foundation for Grossmont and Cuyamaca College had its first meeting last week. The successful Osher campaign shows how the combined effort can work and how it can be used in the future.

Chancellor Miles thanked Communications Specialist Anne Krueger for her efforts to move the District into the world of social networking, including the District Facebook page and live Twitter posts from the Alpine Chamber of Commerce event.

Maria Baeza Receives Quarterly Award

Maria Baeza, Grossmont College Student Affairs Secretary, received the Chancellor/Classified Senate Quarterly Award. Chancellor Cindy Miles described the conga line celebration that is part of the campus presentation as one of the best so far, winding from District Services through the library, past student government to the Student Affairs Office, picking up celebrants along the way.

Baeza's husband joined in to surprise his wife.

Baeza was nominated by her supervisor, Associate Dean Student Affairs Agustin Albarran.

Miles said of Baeza, "It's obvious that her contributions to the District are longstanding and very deeply felt by students and by her colleagues as well." Classified Senate President Wendy Corbin said Baeza is "an absolute example of what classified staff at this District are all about. We are so proud to have her be the example for us and show us what we should strive to achieve ourselves." Vice President Student Services John Colson, speaking on behalf of Albarran, shared in the praise for Baeza's exemplary work and positive attitude, noting her patience, dedication, compassion, and resourcefulness in saving money.

Staff Notes

Welcome to new employees Deborah Delaney, Grossmont College Director of Nursing; Ryan Shumaker, Cuyamaca College Student Success Coordinator; and Steve To, Cuyamaca College Learning Technology and Resource Center Network Specialist II.

Vice Chancellor's Report

Vice Chancellor Sue Rearic called the state budget "grim," and discussed recommendations by the District Strategic Planning and Budget Council that take into account current funding cuts and also anticipate possible midyear cuts. The good news: about 100 fewer course sections will have to be cut than originally anticipated.

Police Chief Joel Javines and the Public Safety team received the first District Services "STAR" Award last week for keeping the campuses safe and hosting an excellent pirate-themed Fun Thursday event for District Services employees.

The Citizens' Bond Oversight Committee (CBOC) will present a report at the August Board meeting and new members will be recommended for service on the CBOC.
