LOCATION

Nestled in the tree-studded hills on 165 acres that was the Monte Vista Ranch, Cuyamaca College is located in Rancho San Diego at 900 Rancho San Diego Parkway in the outskirts of El Cajon. The beautifully pastoral campus is 15 miles east of San Diego via Highway 94.

BACKGROUND

Cuyamaca College, built in 1978, provides transformational educational opportunities whether the student is just starting college, planning to transfer to a university, returning to launch a career or to pick up new skills. One out of every three East County adults have taken classes at Grossmont or Cuyamaca colleges.

Cuyamaca College serves the East San Diego County communities of Alpine, Crest, Dehesa, El Cajon, Jamul, Lakeside, La Mesa, Lemon Grove, Rancho San Diego, Santee, Spring Valley and beyond to the Imperial County and Mexican borders.

COMMUNITY COMMITMENT

Cuyamaca College plays a key role in the community and in regional economic development.

- Cuyamaca College was awarded a federal $2.6 million five-year Title V Hispanic Serving Institution grant to raise achievement for Hispanic students and expand their educational opportunities.
- Cuyamaca College has an agreement with Point Loma Nazarene University to offer bachelor's degree programs in Child Development and Organizational Management without leaving the college campus.
- Cuyamaca College is offering accelerated math and English classes that reduce the amount of remedial classes students must take. The college received a $1.5 million state grant to expand this effort.
- Cuyamaca College was one of 20 California community colleges that was selected to participate in a project to develop guided pathways that lead students toward a degree, certificate or transfer to a four-year university.
- The Water Conservation Garden and the Heritage of the Americas Museum are both based at Cuyamaca College.
